

Macroscopic Anatomy II. Exams

Dear Students,

I would like to inform you the exam period starts on May 18. You can take first only the electronic Moodle test of Macroscopic Anatomy II. Exam due to the coronavirus pandemic. The online exams are held once a week during the exam period. The tests consist of 40 multiple and single choice questions and they take 40 minutes. The pass rate is 60% (24 points).

Only those students are entitled to take the test on the exam day who registered for it in the Neptun system before. The exam tests protected by passwords, what we are going to publish in Moodle before the tests start. If a student opens the exam test with the password, the exam is considered as started and an exam opportunity is used, regardless of whether he / she registered for the exam in the Neptun system on that day.

The Department provides an opportunity to take the electronic test prior the exam period (pre exam on the 14th week). The pre exam is optional and the given mark will only be as considered as grade of the electronic final exam test, if the student accept it. Only those students are eligible to take the pre exam who passed the Macroscopic Anatomy I. Exam. The offered grade for the pre exam cannot be transferred to later exam periods.

After a successful electronic test, the students can take practical exam when the epidemic emergency has been ended. If you fail the practical exam, you do not need to retake the electronic test.

The final grade consists of the electronic (Moodle) test (25%) and the practical exam (75%).

After the epidemic emergency, we are going to make up for anatomy practices preparing you for the practical part of the final exam. The attendance on these practices will be mandatory even in case of failed electronic test because the absences will be taken into account when giving signature for the semester.

Topics: material of the first and second semesters. Academic Calendar 2019/2020 p. 111

http://semmelweis.hu/anatomia/files/2019/09/2019_2020-calendar.pdf

Microscopic Anatomy and Embryology I. Exam

The exams of the Microscopic Anatomy and Embryology I. are exclusively oral exams via the Zoom system due to the coronavirus pandemic.

The exam consists of two parts: description of one given histology slide from the Case Viewer pool and the explanation of one embryology topic without preparation time. You should pass both parts.

NOTE: You should keep up a continuous webcam connection during the whole exam and before the beginning of the exam, you must present either your ID or Student Card through the webcam.

It is the student's responsibility to ensure that the exam is going to be uninterrupted: during the exam, he / she can only be in the room alone and not communicate with others; you cannot leave the room. For the entire duration of the exam, the students can run only the Zoom program on their electronic devices.

The exams are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the whole exam period.

If you fail one of the two parts, the entire exam will be failed and you have to retake it completely.

For security reasons, the exam is recorded by the Institute. The student may not take any form of recording during the examination; violation of this will result in disciplinary action.

Topic list: Academic Calendar 2019/2020 p. 116

Sándor Katz MD, PhD

Course Director