

REQUIREMENTS

Semmelweis University : Faculty of Medicine, Department of Anatomy, Histology and Embryology
Name of the course: Introduction to Clinical Anatomy Type of course: obligatory elective code: AOVANT458_1A credit: 2 points
Name of the responsible person: Prof. Tibor WENGER (wenger.tibor@med.semmelweis-univ.hu)
Academic year: 2020/21., second semester
Role of the course in the training of the medical curriculum: Detailed anatomical knowledge needed for later clinical studies, starting in 4th semester
The program of the course: The place and time of the course: Huzella lecture theatre (Anatomy building, 2nd floor), Mondays between 4.00-5.30 p.m., 2 hours weekly. There will be only lectures, no practical hours. At the end of semester there is a written exam Proposed subjects of the lectures (the order depends on the availability of the lecturers): Surface anatomy Anatomy and hypertonia (high blood pressure) Anatomical background of neurosurgery Anatomical problems in traumatology Radiological anatomy of heart and blood vessels' investigations, congenital anomalies Anatomical problems of peripheral nerve(s) diseases Surgical anatomy of the periorbital region Anatomy of premature and newborn children The anatomy, surgery and reconstruction of the mammary region The anatomical and functional reconstruction of the face a mandible. Practical courses: N.A.
Requirements of course participation Successful results from both macroscopic and microscopic final exams (second or higher year students).
Number and schedule of the examinations: During the examination period weekly one examination date
Requirements of the completion of the program: Successful written exam

Marks: Grades are given after obtaining points as follows: 0-50% fail, 51-60% pass, 61-75% fair, 76-90% good, above 90% excellent.
Types of exam: written test
Requirements of the examinations: Verbal and electronic etc. material provided by the lecturers. All the lectures are power point presentation and will be available on the Department's WEB site and/or Moodle
Registration for exams: NEPTUN Number of participants: min 10, max. 150
Rescheduling the tests: N/A
Justification of absence from the exam: Hungarian medical certificate.

Attention: There will be online lectures until the possibilities will be changed. You will find the lectures on the web (the site/link will be announced in time) (usually before the date of the lectures.)

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'W. Székely', is located below the attention text.