

Dear Medicine Students,

The 1st Histology midterm is held during the 2nd laboratory class of Week 5. This week you are going to prove your knowledge in the field of Histology.

Topic:

Basic tissues (slides of the practical classes of the first 5 weeks - together with relevant theoretical background)

The form of the midterm is written (images and theory questions written in moodle)

Please have your SeKA account user name and password at hand.

Time: 18 minutes

No immediate inspection is offered.

Content

20 questions (4 only text, 16 images with text)

Please arrive on time to the practical class. Be there at least 5 minutes before the starting time.

Due to seating difficulties only one of the two (3 out of 6) groups may write the test at the same time, the other 3 groups will have to wait in the main hall (at the stairs). Once the first round is done, the groups will leave through the side stairs and the other three groups will occupy the laboratories and write the test.

There is no study material planned for this day, so upon finishing the midterm you may leave.

Participation at the midterm test is obligatory, in case of staying away (absence) there will be a next possibility offered to write the test (1st retake date).

The result of the test cannot be upgraded or "corrected" by rewriting the test, retake midterms are solely offered to student being absent from the midterm.

It is strictly forbidden to talk or otherwise communicate with each other during the test, the same rules apply as with the written part of the semifinal examinations.

Mobile phones will have to be switched off and put away in your bags.

Please go through the practice test offered in moodle several times to get used to the format. I hope you will be successful with the midterm.

Good luck with your test!

All the best,

Dr. Andrea D Székely
Associate Professor
Course Director