

Information about semi-final exam Faculty of Medicine (2023/2024)

Completion of Medical Physiology I. requires taking a semi-final exam in the examination period. The exam cannot be taken if the student fails to obtain the end-term signature and/or the lab reports are not signed by the practice teacher. The attendance of a minimum of 75% of practices (including seminars) is necessary for the end-term signature. Requirements of the semi-final exam: material of the Medical Physiology I.

Registration for the exam must be recorded through the NEPTUN system. Modification in the registration must be recorded through the NEPTUN system in time. We would like to draw your attention to the fact that the teachers (including the Course Director and the Tutor) cannot modify your registration, so the registration, de-registration, modification of the exam date must be recorded through the NEPTUN system in time!

The semi-final exam is oral exam. The exam starts at 8:45 by showing up in the selected exam place. Your exam place and examiners are announced in written form at 8:40 (attached to the front door of the corridor of the Physiology Practice Rooms). The students need to bring ID card and the laboratory report book to participate in the exam. The oral exam consists of two theoretical questions (I-II). The list and grouping of questions are listed in the webpage in the Department of Physiology.

I: 1 and 2 topics of the semifinal exam

II: 3, 4 and 5 topics of the semifinal exam

The overall result of the oral exam is based on the two theoretical grades and the lab grade but a failed (1) theoretical question results in an overall failed (1) exam. The mathematical average of the lab grade and the two oral exam grades gives the grade of the semifinal exam:

Excellent (5):	4.51 - 5.00
Good (4):	3.51 - 4.50
Satisfactory (3):	2.51 - 3.50
Pass (2):	2.00 - 2.50
Fail (1):	in case of failed (1) theoretical question.

The following rules will be enforced during the exams: electronic devices must be kept in the baggage; baggage and overcoats should be placed next to the wall of the lecture halls or the practice rooms; any form of communication is disallowed; students not complying with these rules will be disqualified immediately.

Repetition of the exam is possible at least three days after the unsuccessful trial.
