Part II.

Student vaccination program

§ 7

The obligation of students to get vaccinations:

(1) Concerning the inseparability of education and the pursuit of health activities, the university vaccination program shall require all students and pupils within the meaning of Section (5) to adhere to the same rules to ensure a healthy and safe working, educational, and patient care environment.

(2) For the purpose specified in Section (1), only those students may enter the University buildings who

a) have either received a single-dose SARS-CoV-2 coronavirus vaccine, or
b) in the case of a two-dose vaccine, have received the first dose and are going to get the second dose at a time specified by the vaccinator, and provide a vaccination certificate as described in Section (8).

(3) Students of the University – with the exception of the exemption under Section (4) – who fail to fulfill the obligation to get the vaccination in accordance with Section (2) or fail to provide proof of vaccination, may enroll at the University, but may not start their studies; if they have already started their studies, but have not received the vaccination in accordance with Section (2), may not participate in education, and may not enter the buildings of the University.

(4) The obligation under Section (2) shall not apply to a student who, for health reasons, is contraindicated to be vaccinated and this is supported by a medical opinion. The medical opinion is issued by the general practitioner, physician, or the Occupational Health Service of the University, on the initiative of the student and the recommendation of their general practitioner.

(5) In the case of students who are not required to be vaccinated for certified health reasons according to Section (4), and in the case of students who have been vaccinated and have not yet gained immunity, an antigen test must be taken every 5 days free of charge.

(6) The provisions of this section shall also apply to students in the vocational training who undergo practical training within the framework of health care activities in a department of the University. This also applies to persons participating in education at the University in terms of an agreement with other tertiary education institutions or under an Erasmus program.

(7) The administration of full vaccination shall be checked by the coordinator of studies (in the case of a student participating in vocational training, by the head of the institution) after the establishment of student status or in the case of existing student status, immediately after this order enters into force.
