International Scientific Conference

VIA VIATORES QUAERIT.
SOCIAL MOBILITY IN THE HISTORY OF THE STATES OF
THE VISEGRÁD GROUP

Gdynia, 29-30 May 2014

Man has traveled since the dawn of history. Over the centuries and in different geographical regions there were different destinations, conditions and consequences of travels, as well as in relation to the individual and larger groups. The aim of this conference is presentation of various aspects of social mobility in the states of the Visegrád Group and also its geographical extension ranging from middle to modern times. The issues of mutual contacts and exchanges of ideas, people, goods and services in time and space are particularly interesting according to the organizers. There should also be asked questions about negative consequences of migrations as for example their influence on level and pace of development of individual countries. In the intention of organizers conference should create a forum for the exchange of views on the various issues that are in interest of its participants.

Conference is interdisciplinary and organizers wish to draw attention to the following points:

- Migrations of people in space and time
- Travels of ruler, knight, noble, burgher and citizen
- War and diplomacy
- Far and near expeditions
- Trade and development of routes
- Educational journey and rest journey
- Former and contemporary job migrations
- Distance and space – past and present
- The world as a ‘global village’
- Cultural traditions, patterns and standards for social mobility
